

PARKING POLICY

This policy applies to the use of university parking facilities by employees, students and visitors. The overall responsibility for parking rests with the General Administration & Services Department.

1. Parking fees and conditions are established by the University Administration.
2. The University Administration reserves the right to cancel any parking privileges as deemed necessary.
3. In exceptional circumstances such as for students with disabilities, staff, faculty and visitor or special university guests, the University Administration reserves the right to authorize the use of specific parking spaces by specific individuals in university owned space at its discretion.
4. The University Administration reserves the right to close parking facilities when conditions warrant.
5. The General Administration Services Department is authorized to examine, upon request, the contents of all vehicles on university premises in the presence of the owner. Refusal to submit to such examination may result in the immediate loss of parking privileges.
6. Drivers shall park the vehicles only in the designated parking lot and shall observe traffic signs. Repeated violations of parking regulations may result in the immediate loss of parking privilege and violators may be fined or their vehicles may be towed. Towing is at the driver's risk and expense.
